ABOUT ME:

Hello, I'm Erin Ray! Depending on your child's class, he or she might know me as Madame Ray or Señora Ray. I double majored at the University of Michigan in French and Spanish and subsequently went back to school for my teaching certificate at Oakland University. I've taught middle school, high school, at a charter school, public school, Catholic school, you name it! I obtained my master's degree in education from the University of Kentucky. This is my 20th year of teaching and my 3rd at Bishop Foley Catholic High School.

GRADING POLICY

The language classes have a point-based grading system. Students will be graded on their performance in class with scores for classwork, daily work, assessments, projects, and/or presentations.

HOMEWORK/LATE WORK POLICY

Please check the FACTS system! I update grades pretty frequently. As far as homework goes, the chapters or units in the students' textbook cover a lot of information. Even if there is no written homework, there are always study sets on Quizlet to help your child stay on top of vocabulary and grammar. A student's absent work can be found in FACTS and the online textbook (it automatically dates assignments).

Only students who are absent may turn in late work per the handbook policy.

HOW CAN A STUDENT SUCCEED IN YOUR CLASS?

Please take notes and ask questions! If your child is shy or embarrassed to raise a hand in class, encourage him or her to email that teacher with any kind of question or concern. We are all here to help.

BEST WAY TO CONTACT YOU/COMMUNICATE

The students have their book online, and a Google classroom site, which sends an email with any notifications of a new post. Families, please email me and have your child do the same. I can usually respond within a day or two.
